There are at least 14 Australian Film Festivals taking place over the July to September quarter in 2024 – and that's not counting all the micro festivals that pop up in hyper-local bars and screening rooms throughout the year!

Major festivals like the Melbourne International Film Festival, Revelation Perth International Film Festival, the Scandinavian Film Festival, CineFestOz, Darwin International Film Festival and the Italian Film Festival take place this quarter.

There's also an abundance of local and niche film festivals, such as the Melbourne Documentary Film Festival, the Top Dog Film Festival, and the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne.

Rug up, grab a ticket or a pass, and get out there to see some films!

All Australian film festivals taking place in June, July and September 2024:*

if you host a notable film festival in Australia during this quarter and you don't see it on the list, please send us your press release and festival program guide for editorial consideration*
